A TOURNAMENT

For Local Boxers is Received With General Favor-Would Excite a Set of Spirited Contests Between Good Home Talent-Boxing Notes.

Wheeling boasts of some creditable young boxers, and in fact, when they have figured against out-of-town opponents, their showing was always flattering to the old town. The suggestion is offered that, in view of the attempts to match several of them, there be held a tournament at which the rivals may decide their superiority. Boxing tournaments are great successes in other cities and one here, in which the participants would be representatives of suburbs and other things, would grouse a sort of local pride that would assert itself in big box office receipts.

grouse a sort of local pride that would assert itself in big box office receipts.

The tournament could consist of three bouts, say of ten rounds each, in the bantam, light and welter-weight classes, and the winner would thus become the local champion in his class. For instance, George Carle, of Benwood, and Louis Logomassino, who would both weigh under 150 pounds, ought to put up a hot and stubborn battle. Or others within the weight limit could enter, and if necessary the radius of eligible territory might be extended for some distance, to include Little Washington; if desired, since that town has plenty of boxers whom Wheeling boys would like to win over. Milt Rankin and Frank Tucker, Washington bantams, could be pitted against "Buzz" Auber and Charles Kurtz in the 115 pound class. These contests alone would draw like a house afree.

In the lightweight register, Chippy Chapman, of the East End, is the best known. But there are others who would come out in a limited round bout for a championship medal, or a purse, as the case might be.

Lesile Pearce is a great admirer of boxing tournaments, and patrons of the game are anxious to see local men mix tup, for the last few contests have demonstrated that the boys have done better in the preliminary events, which were generally hotter than the main botte, than the stiffs who humbugged the system is first changed.

That is what the "Golden Medical Discovery" does for him. It begins by removing from his digestive system all poisonous, effete matter. It gives tone to his stomach, activity to his liver, cleanliness to his bowels. While this work is going on the "Discovery" also manifests its potency through the blood and nerves. It fills the blood with rich, red corpuscles and sends them vigorously circulating all over the body to soothe and nourish the tired, abused, screeching nerves.

Screeching nerves.
When a man has nervous prostration

it isn't his nerves that are wrong. It's his blood. Bad blood comes from bad digestion—bad stomach, bad liver, bad kidneys. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery will put all these organs in good order. "Golden Medical Discov-ery" contains no alcohol in any form. It is entirely free from opium and other narcotics and contains neither sugar nor syrup which are injurious to some stom-achs. Without any of these ingredients it retains its pleasant taste and healing qualities in any climate and under all readding.

for all freight of the fourth, fifth and sixth classes, which became effective February 2, and lasted just one week, going down under the overwhelming protests of the shippers.

While the new rules establish the 30,000 pound-rule for a great variety of freight in the three lower classes, there is a formidable list of exceptions technically referred to as those governed by rule 5 of the official classification. In the general changes made effective on April 1 are a number of general rules. One is that where tons of 2,240 and 2,268 pounds are carried the same as 2,000 pounds, fifteen gross tons shall be considered the minimum car load weight. It was formerly twelve gross tons. The old feature of the rules which established a weight of 20,000 pounds when cars are less than 20 feet long, and 24,000 pounds when the cars are thirty feet or more is dropped. Only the thirty-foot standard car is recognized, and the new classification is based almost entirely upon it, or, rather, its visible capacity. Articles of the three lower classes of freight of such bulk and character that they cannot be loaded into this standard car to an amount of 20,000 pounds are classified as to minimum according to the carrying capacity of the car.

Another changed general rule applies to articles which on account of length require two or more cars. For the first car the 24,000 weight, if, provided for the nrticle, is charged, and 50 per cent of this for each additional car. In no case, however, can less than 36,000 minimum, 35 per cent of the rate on the minimum is charged for each additional car. Revenue Tons Increase.

The railroad expert believes that the number of revenue tons hauled per mile is the best indication of a railroad's Is the best indication of a railroad's ability to handle traffic at the lowest cost of transportation. As is well known, the receivers of the Baltimore & Ohio railroad have been spending millions on improvements and have not completed the work, the lines west of the Ohio river being in need of a general rehabilitation, which they are to get this year. But the revenue haul per mile in 1837-98 was increased to 314 tons and a special report for the six months ending December 31st, 1898, shows an average of 331.9 tons, quite an appreciable advance.

It is confidently expected that still further improvement will be shown before long.

There was an increase in freight ton-nage of 2,295,529 tons and an increase in passenger traffic of 232,293 passengers, the latter being the result of military transportation, growing out of the Spanish-American war. Both freight and pasenger traffic, however, show a decrease in rates, the average receipts for the system being 1 39-100 cents per mile, against 2 3-100 cents for 1897.
